|1.Introduction /
| _____/

Soon I will immerse you in the scientific study of the Seaman, and a guide on how to raise it from an egg to it's final stage of evelution the frog. This guide will be a step by step guide. Everything you need to know how to play will be included in this walkthrough.

The one thing you need to know about the game is that you need to allow time to pass. It will take weeks to complete the game, sometimes a month. There is a trick that will allow you to play for several hours a day, and make it seem like a week past. To do this trick, turn the power off.

Now open the lid to your Sega dreamcast. Now go to Settings, then Date/Time. Now simply change the day, one day ahead. After each session playing the game, do this trick again, and again, till you have finished the game. If done right, you can beat the game in a few hours rather than a few weeks.

The story of Seman is a long one, more info on the story can be found at <http://www.yoot.com>

Here is a brief story on Seaman.

Once long ago in Egypt's third dynasty, there was a man, who fell in love with a priest's daughter. This man was the son of the pharaoh, who disapproved of his son's relationship with the priest's daughter. The Priest sought help from Thoth (Thoth), who was the god of wisdom.

Thoth was depicted as a man with the head of an ibis bird, and carried a pen and scrolls upon which he recorded all things. He was shown as attendant in almost all major scenes involving the gods, but especially at the judgement of the deceased.

Thoth had turned the man and his lover into a fish creature and a bird. The man became the fish, and his lover became a bird. Both had vanished. The priest who at the time was in charge of the construction of the pyramids, asked Thoth if they were to ever return. The pharaoh asked if the priest could build a landmark that could act as a beacon, so that one day the couple could return.

Thousands of years later Professor William Southerland director of the Anthro-Bio Archaeological Research Institute in France had announced to the international media that there was a strong possibility that the creature Seaman was very much related to the origin of Ancient Egyptian civilizations.

Later a man named Jean Paul Gasse was the first scientist to research the Seaman creature, and is in a sense the creature's discoverer. Gasse found himself in an expedition around the area of the Nile River, investigating the biological ecosystem of the river. Gasse found mutated bone fragments by the river. All of the bone fragments shared common characteristics, they all seemed to have mutated suddenly and over a short period of time in order to adapt to the changing Nile Valley.

The fragments correlated with hieroglyphics found on the ruins of pyramid walls dating back to the ancient third dynasty. While trying to reproduce Seaman's region and environment Gasse continued making experimental mistakes in the lab-based aquarium. Gasse realized that Seaman was no ordinary creature. This creature's face is just like a human being's. He then gave them a name "Sea-man", or man of the sea.

Seaman , Week 1

Week 1 , Day 1

Task 1. Put Air on 100%

Task 2. Put Heater on 19.9 degrees c.

Task 3. Add egg from storage matrix.

Task4. In 4 minutes,the egg should hatch.

Now wake the squid up by taping on it's shell,get it to eat the mushroomers. It will take 10 min for the Gillman to be born.

Task 5. Once they are born,heat the tank back up to 19.9 c degrees,then add a food pellet to the tank. This will become a daily chore.

After you are greeted with an introduction by Leonard Nimoy it is now time to care for the tank for the first time.

The first thing you should do is turn the lights on. After the lights are on,turn the heater to 19.9 degrees. Now turn the air to 100 percent. You are now ready to add the Seaman Egg from the storage matrix.

Click the left trigger. Now hold X+ R trigger,while still holding these buttons click the L trigger again. Now release the buttons. Your egg should hatch soon. Within a few short minutes if the tank is still at optimal level your Seaman Egg should begin to mutate and hatch.

You will now notice that after the egg hatches that little eye ball looking things will emerge from the egg. These are the Mushroomers,the first stage of evelution in Seaman's life. This stage won't last long,for now you must kill them so that the seamen can be born.

You will notice a shell in the tank,this is the Nautilus. As Leonard Nimoy says "It may be of help in raising the Seaman". The Nautilus is a shellfish squid creature that eats Seamen. Once your Mushroomers get close enough, the Nautilus will come alive,revealing its squid-like form,and begin chasing down and eating your Seamen! As the game's tagline goes,"don't panic". They are supposed to get eaten. The more Mushroomers it eats,the more Seamen you will get.

About ten to thirteen minutes after the Mushroomer's are eaten,the Gillmen will emerge from the Nautilus. It is sad to say the Nautilus will soon die,this may seem cruel but is important to raising Seman. Once the Gillmen are born,you should soon start talking with them. First drop a food pellet into the tank from the storage Matrix. The Gillman's vocabulary consists mostly of gibberish. Here are a few words that the Baby Gillmen will say.

Goh,Hoy,Floy,Quaffa,Camawoo,Darvenga,Conquinne Mar mar mar.

When speaking with the baby gillmen,they won't understand anything you say to them until around day two. Here are a few words that the baby gillmen might understand. Hello,Hi,Good,baby,fish,night,goodnight,I love you,bye. Also the word English will also trigger a response. Eventually after saying the words often,gillman will soon speak full sentences. Before saving your game remember to heat the tank back up,and fix the air.

Week 1 , Day 2

Task 1. Heat the tank back up to 19.9 c degrees then add a food pellet to the tank.

| 5. Insect Cage /

Once you have adult Gillmen, they will tell you that Dr. Gassee had an Insect Cage. Gillman will tel you to feed him a Larvae when it hatches. The Insect Cage is equiped with a sprinkler system. You must keep this at 100% to keep the moisture up.

When you first visit the Insect Cage,you will have 4 larvae eggs and 2 plant seeds. With in a day the eggs should hatch. Put two in your storage matrix ,keep one in the insect cage,and the last one will be given to the Gillmen if there are no more pellets left. If you still have pellets,then put the larvae in your storage matrix.

The one Larvae that was left in the cage will eventually spin a cocoon. The next day it will hatch and a Kimoth will soon emerge from the cocoon. Your Kimoth will soon lay two eggs of it's own. The next day the eggs hatch. Most likely one of the two eggs will contain a spider, don't worry it's no threat if you leave it alone. Put the larvae in the storage matrix for later use.

If you do feed a spider to your Seaman, it will become sick. If this does happen,you must make Seaman feel happy,say things to it like "I like you" "you're cute",and tickle it as well. Other than that just keep doing the things above over again and you'll have plenty of food for Seaman to eat. Remember to keep the sprinkler at 100%,and to keep a few Larvae in storage. Also toss a seed into the tank every now and then.

| 6.Secrets of Seman /
| _____ /

There are many secrets locked away in Vivarium's Seaman,some are easy to find yet others have yet to be found. People want to discover Seaman's secrets also known as Easter Eggs. I have found a few and you can read about them below.

A.Fun with Sega.

When you have Frogman,say the name ''Sega''. Frogman will have at least 4 responses to the word Sega.

They include

1. ''All Hail Sega,now where's my $50?''
2. ''Yes this is a Sega Dremacast''
3. ''Yes Sega,they wanted me to be their masscot.''
4. ''Yes Sega,now can you say Dreamcast?''

Also you can try to say ''Nintendo'' and ''Playstation''. Nintendo will get you ''Yes I have heard of that company.''

Playstaion will get you three responses.

1. ''Let us never utter that name ever again.''
2. ''Good people over there, but their office smells.''
3. ''That name sounds familiar.''

B. Fun with dates.

If you reset the dreamcast's internal clock to a date then depending on the date you set it to frogman will talk about that date.

12/24/2000 - Christmas Eve

Frogman: Hey it's Christmas Eve. C'mon let's go to bed right now. Santa won't come if we're awake. Turn out the lights. Put out the cookies, let's go, let's go, move it, move it !

Frogman: What's with fat guy in the red suite? He's always playing with elves and raindeer. There should be laws against that sort of thing.

12/25/2000 - Christmas Day

Frogman: Ho Ho Ho Merry Christmas, so what did you get me?

12/31/2000 - New years eve.

Frogman: Happy New years eve. You know I think the last time I got excited over a ball dropping was during puberty.
