THIS GAME WORTH PLAYING! READ ON ONLY IF YOU'RE

Explanation: Seaman is an unusual game for the dreamcast. Some people don't even consider seaman a game. It mostly considered a "virtual pet." You raise it by feeding it, supplying its air, and make sure it's tank is the right temperature. Sooner or later you even have to raise the food for it separately.

The main feature of Seaman is the ability to talk to your pet, via a microphone included with the game. That is where this guide comes in. The main point of this guide is to help you know what you can say to seaman during certain points of the game, and how he will respond.

A problem with the microphone/game is that it doesn't always what you're saying correctly. It may mishear your talk for another word. Just be sure to talk clearly and don't use any long sentences. For this game, more than 10 words at a time are probably too long.

Most of the time, you only need to say one or two keywords for seaman to understand you. And in my opinion, using only keywords to talk to seaman is the best way for him to understand you. Only use long sentences when you know he will hear you correctly, and when you want to show off to your friends that you're having good conversation with a game.

Since the most important aspect of this game is what you can say to seaman and how he can respond, this FAQ can be considered a big spoiler. So I cannot stress enough how you should NOT read on if you don't like things being ruined for you.

Explanation: A short while (few days) after your seaman reaches his gillman stage, he will begin to ask you a series of questions.

This section will deal on what questions he asks, and in what ways you can respond. Most of the time it will be best to answer with a simple yes or no. Of course, you can also answer these with "yup", "yeah", "nah," and possibly more slang.

The first two parts before section one deal with what he says when he wants to ask you a question. When he asks/says these statements, you only need reply with ANYTHING (! and ??? responses both work), and then you will be asked a question. If you don't reply when seaman wants to talk, he will respond with a different statement, and he will be mad at you. Later on, when he is in a good mood, he will try to get your attention again.

It seems that the way you answer certain questions will determine what later questions will be asked.

Usually, when seaman finishes a set of questions, he will be tired again, and will not ask any more questions for maybe a day or two. IF he was only put in a bad mood by you ignoring him, he will not ask another question until he is in a good mood again.

= When he's ready to ask a question =

"Hey I got a question or two for you."
"Hey let's talk... are you there?"
"OK, one more time."
"Come on stay with me here."
"Let me ask this again and this time I'd appreciate an answer."
"What do you say, so that question I asked you before... oh yes..."
"Seriously, I want to know.. I said."
"Let me repeat the question, I said..."
"Ok, one more time... I said..."
"Come on, stay with me here..."
"Once more with feeling..."
"Hey you..."

=====
= When you don't answer or he doesn't understand =
=====

"What?.. what?.. I can't hear you... "
"Hmm... I'll try you again later."
"Wait... time out... I'm not feeling good all of a sudden."
"Maybe you should think this over. I'll be seeing you."
"Oh well, we'll try again later."
"Let's think about what you said, shall we?... I'll see you later..."
"Hold on hold on... there's... something in my eye..."
"Oooh I'm all talked out for today."
"Tomorrow... we'll talk again tomorrow..."
"See... when I ask a question, you're supposed to answer it... let me know if I'm going to fast for you."

Here's another question... do you wear glasses?... It doesn't matter... my point is that there were no glasses 5000 years ago. If you're alone in a field, you won't be able to see the blurry lion that's about to eat you.]
[What about that 4 eyed guy in Seattle??? How far would he have gotten in a fight with a lion?]

[Tell me something... have you seen the Egyptian pyramids? Not on PBS, but with your own eyes?]

No- [I didn't think so... god forbid you should have to go somewhere beyond the Starbucks around the corner. Did you ever wonder how those pyramids were built? A whole group of you tiny little humans couldn't even lift up one of those big stone blocks. They had to invent pulleys, and levers and so forth...]

[You might want to pull up a chair, this might take a while.]
[Do you know what the greatest tool in the world is?]

No- [The greatest tool of all, is language...]

[Without it, you wouldn't even be talking to me right now...]
[Then pythagoracious came along... you know who he is?]

Yes-
No-

[You see pythagoracious invented algebra... then came calculus, and the printing press, and cars, and dreamcasts, and computers, and so on... well the point is that people built tools for what they need to improve life...]
[Just like whirlpool]
[... Now THAT'S evolution.]
"Well, I hope I haven't bored you to death... if I have, go take a nap or something, we'll talk again soon."

* End of 12th set of questions *

Tomorrow... we'll talk again tomorrow."

* 13th Set of Questions *

=====

= Dreamcast Appreciation =

=====

"Do you like your Sega dreamcast?"

= Favorite Dreamcast Game =

"So what would you say is your favorite game so far for the Sega dreamcast?"

Marvel Vs Capcom 2- "A fighting game huh?... I myself am a lover, not a fighter..."

* End of 13th Set of Questions *

* 14th Set of Questions *

=====

= Existence of Seaman =

[You know... some people say that, like most video game characters, I'm not real and don't exist... it's a bit of a shock...]
[Do you believe that I exist?]

Yes- [Well, at least you believe in me.. that's good because I believe in you too...]

[But.. why don't I exist?]
[Please... I need some time alone to think about this.. I'll.. talk to you later...]

= More Thoughts on Seaman's Existence =

"Do you remember our last conversation?.. you know about yours truly not existing..."

[Have you heard of John F. Kennedy? Do you believe that John F. Kennedy existed?]

Yes-

[What about The Beatles... do you think they existed?]

Yes-

[You see you've probably never seen these people, except for on TV and magazines... I too am on TV and magazines.... you are even here talking to me and thinking about me.. so from that point of view.. I EXIST.]

= Conclusion on Existence =

"Do you mind if I flex your mind a bit?"
[When you measure your temperature, the coolness of the thermometer will change the temperature in your mouth while you measure it. This will change the actual temperature of your mouth, and thus change the reality of the temperature in your mouth.]
[If measuring reality actually changes that reality, then there is no way to accurately measure reality.]

[Things exist only because they are observed.]

[Since you can observe me, I exist.]

"Since I have such a limited attention span... once I forget about you, you will no longer exist... see ya." ^_^

* End of 14th Set of Questions *

"That was interesting... we'll speak again soon... "

* 15th Set of Questions *

=====

= Seaman on Language =

"You know what really chaps my hide?.. it's how the English language is never set up to give a straight answer."

[You know how people say, 'this is one of the tallest buildings in America'... there is only one tallest building isn't there?... This is really confusing to me.]

= Movies: Rent or Theater =

[Lately I've been thinking about the media...]

[Since you are a part of the human species, I'll ask you.

Do you watch movies at the theater, or rent them to watch at home?]

At home- [At least when you watch a movie at home you can push pause when you need to use the bathroom... and you don't need to sit behind any particularly large people... unless your furniture is oddly arranged...]

= VCR or DVD =

"Tell me, when you watch these movies, do you use a DVD or VCR?"

DVD- [Aha, I knew a technically minded person like you would be up to date on all the latest gadgets.]

= Favorite Genre =

[I'm fascinated that there's not just many movies to love, but also many types... tell me, what is your favorite kind of movie?]

Cheesy-

Animated- "Well, just in case you were wondering, if you DO drop an anvil on somebody's head, they WILL die."

=====

= Favorite Movie =

[So what would you say is your all time favorite movie?]

Mystery Science Theater 3000- [Hmmm... I've never seen that movie.. perhaps we can watch it together sometime.]

= Hours Spent Watching TV =
=====

"Well, we were talking about movies, but the biggest influence on your culture has got to be television."

[A lot of people these days watch television.]

[How many hours of television would you say you watch per week?]

0- "You don't watch any television, is that correct?"

1 to 10-"You only watch a little bit, is that right?"

11 to 20- "You spend a fair amount of time in front of the boob tube?"

21 and up- "You watch a lot huh?"

Yes- "I don't know when you find the time to study, commercials aren't that long..."

=====
= Favorite Genre =
=====

"So what type of TV shows do you like the best? Sitcoms, cartoons, all of the above.... (I can't believe how much television you watch...) "

Anime \
Animation }- "You're a cartoon junkie huh?"
Cartoons /

Yes- [They're wonderful because they don't have the limits of live actors or scenes.. literally anything can happen, and that's exciting.]

= Conclusion =
=====

[Well, thanks for telling me a little about your television habits...

this little box has grabbed your attention...]

[It's easy to blame television for all the troubles in the world, but as long as you learn how not to abuse it, it can't do you any harm...]

[But, it's better to have an actual experience than watch someone else doing it in a glass box]

* End of 15th Set of Questions *

* 16th Set of Questions *

=====
= Favorite Music Genre =

[So I'm going to go out on a limb here and assume you like music..

it's another medium you humans are fascinated with.]

[Well, what kind of music you listen to?... rock?... hip hop?]

Yes- [Yes, it's truly the music of the soul... such fire, such passion... or... am I talking about sailors again?... oh well...]

Easy Listening-

= Books =
=====

[Now I want to ask you about the most important medium of all...
the printed word]

[So tell me, do you enjoy reading?]

Yes- "You like to huh?"

Yes- [That's great, reading is the greatest form of entertainment because it allows you to use your imagination, not someone else's... you're not bound to what a person or scene looks like.]

=====
= Amount of Reading =
=====

"How many books have you read in that past year that weren't required reading for school?"

2- "Hmm... that's good, but remember you could always read more"

12- "Wow, that's very impressive.. I'm very proud to have you as my care giver."

=====
= Conclusions =
=====

"There are so many different forms of entertainment. If your job was to be entertained you still couldn't take it all in.]

[Humans are the only ones who can entertain themselves in complex ways... so take advantage of it and take in as much as you can... even if you're staring at a cop show, eating bon bon's for an hour...]

* End of 16th Set of Questions *

"I've hoped you learned something from our little chat... take care."

* 17th Set of Questions *

=====
= Location =

[You know, it struck me that I've been around you for a while, yet I don't know exactly where I am.]

[I know I'm somewhere in America, but the details are fuzzy...
like you.. fuzzy...]
[So, what state are we in?]

Hawaii- "So we... live in... Hawaii...?"

Yes- [Hmm... let's pause here a second...

WHOO HOO! OH YES BABY YES!.. I'm ok now...]

"So which island are we talking about?"

"He-LLLO-000 on which Hawaiian island do we live?"

Oahu- "Oahu... are we in Honolulu?"

No- [Oh well.. I bet we're still not far from a beach...]

=====

= Speech About State =

[It's odd to be considered a part of America, since we're so far away...]

[Hawaii was added to America during the end of one of it's phases...

the colonial age...]

[I wonder if Hawaii will be it's own country in a hundred years or so...]

=====

= Question Concerning Your Location =

[So what do you think about all the tourists?]

Don't like them \ [I don't blame you, I hate strangers causing (Think they're cute) / traffic problems and making my favorite places harder to go to.]

=====

= Conclusion on America =

[I must tell you that your country really fascinates me.]

[It continues to get stronger and more influential as time passes on.]

[Colonial reaches have even brought Alaska and Hawaii into the fold.]

[Will there be 55 states in 100 years?.. will there be no states at all?

These are the things I think about, and I'm sure you have too.]

= Traveling Abroad =

"Well , I've found out a little about you based on where you lived."

[Have you ever traveled abroad?]

No- [Have you ever heard the expression 'walk a mile in another man's shoes?'
Well, I'm sure that walking a mile in someone's country is the next best thing.]

[Humans always play it too safe... they live in their own little place when they don't realize that people you travel around are doing the living...
you're not really living if you don't travel...]

[Also... there's nothing that gets your 'love muffin' in the mood for amore, than a exciting exotic trip.]

=====
= Conclusion on Traveling Abroad =

[I have another point to make regarding travel and culture shall I share it with you?]

Yes- [Ok, then. Weather or not you've traveled abroad... the world is getting smaller. Sure you know that... there's even a song about it... 'it's a small world'... in history it has never been more important to be tolerant.]

[You can already see the merge of different cultures... pop music with different languages... food with fusion.]

[The internet is also making the world come closer together...]

[There will no more countries in the future, just like what happened in America, and what is now happening in Europe.]

[That, to me, is... very exciting...]

* 19th Set of Questions *

[I have a question for you.. you see.. watching you every day like this... I see you come to and fro from work.]

[Everything has rules in life and everyone follows them.]

[I could relax all day, but I get antsy.]

[I envy you because you could.]

[The grass is, on the other side, some... other color... that is... I don't know...]

=====
= Happy with your Job =

[Are you happy with your job?]

Yes- [That's great.. it's a good thing to like your job.]

[You do that while you work? Each person must enjoy the work he or she is meant to do.]

* End of 19th Set of Questions *

* 20th Set of Questions *

"Hey, I have something I want to talk to you about."

"You know, I'm really getting the impression that you people are busy all the time. Maybe it's just here in America, which is such a business obsessed culture. It seems like everyone is always complaning about not having any spare time, but when they get some, they don't know what to do with it, because they're used to being busy. It's strange that knowing how to relax appears to have become a skill you humans have to learn. YOU seem to know how to relax, if you're talking to me... but I want to know what else you do in your spare time."

= Spare Time with Friends =

"For example, what do you do when you're with your friends?"

Video Games- "Well, that's good. You take a typically anti-social experience and turn it into one involving friends. In fact, it seems like that's where gaming is heading to these days. Consider yourself a pioneer... or, maybe not."

=====
= Sprinkler Notice (May come at a Different Time) =

"It gets really tough for us when the air gets too dry...
There should be a sprinkler that Gasse built somewhere around here
Hey, can you use the D-pad to look for it?
Come on, use the D-pad and find the sprinkler."

=====
= Spending a Lot of Time with Friends =

"So... I think I have an idea of what activities you and your friends do in your time together. Do you see a lot of them, by the way?"

No- "Well, that's too bad. It's tough to maintain friendships sometimes when you have a busy work schedule. What counts is that they're there for you when you really need them."

Yes- "Well, that's good. I wouldn't want my little biped to get lonely."

=====
= Talking with Friends =

"You know what I've noticed?... People love to talk. Oh sure, there are quiet ones every once in a while, but usually if you ask a person the right questions, they can go on for hours. I mean, why else would you have me around if you didn't like a good conversation every once in a while? I think that's also what makes a good friend if they're willing to listen to you spout off about something, you just have to make sure you let them talk once in a while too, so you don't bore them to death.
But I was wondering..."

"What kinds of things do you and your friends talk about?"

Sex- "Of course, what else would you talk about you horny little monsters?"

"I say you could never really get bored if you have someone around who you can talk to. Sometimes it's more fun to just sit around and talk, then it is to actually go do something. It all depends on the person though."

=====
= Time Spent with Girlfriend =
=====

"Say... I know you spend time socializing with your friends a lot, but... you have to have some time left over to spend with your sweetheart, right?
It's good to be in a relationship that's a friendship also... You can kill two birds with one stone. Besides, I don't know why you'd want to be with someone who bores the pants off you."

"So... what do you and your girlfriend like to do together?"

Sex- "You know what?... Seaman doesn't want to know this... Just keep it to yourself"

"Well, I'm sure you and your sweetie care about each other, but if you don't mind me saying so, I think you may have worked yourself into some kind of a rut. Maybe you should think about getting out more... exploring your world, that sort of thing. Who knows? Maybe you don't need anything except each other... Naw get out and do something before you drive each other crazy."

= Time Spent with Self =
=====

"You know what the really great thing about friends is?... Spending time with them makes you really appreciate the time you spend by yourself. I mean... you probably get tired of your friends sometimes, don't you?"

"What do you like to do when you're by yourself?"

Masturbate- "Well, I should hope you're by yourself when you do that... those restraining orders can be really messy."

"It's good that you don't mind being by yourself. It seems like a lot of people can't stand it, because then they actually have to think... I see you don't have that problem."

= Different Personalities for Different People =
=====

"One thing I find really interesting about people is how very... camelon like many of you can be. For example, when a preson is talking to their closest friends, as opposed to their employer, their entire persona will often change. Of course it really depends on the person. I mean, you seem to do different things around people than when you're by yourself. And, that leads me to ask you..."

"Depending on who you're with, do you think your personallity changes a lot, a little, or not at all?"

A Lot- "I think that's pretty common. People adapt to the situations around them. Often, the way you act around your grocery store clerk won't nessecitate quite as much... ass kissing as when you're around your boss."

"The things you do with different people and when you're alone reflect your personality changes, I think. I mean it seems like there's a lot of things going on with you. No wonder you act differently around different people. It seems like you're doing lots of different things around them too. Well, I think I know you well enough to tell you that even I act differently depending on who I'm with, and it makes sense. Everyone has different expectations of everyone else, and nobdy expects me to pick my nose around them. Yes, that is my private moment... Don't tell anyone, please."

"Anyway, I'm going to go think about things for a while... it was nice talking with you... bye-eee."
