Updates

September 13, 2011

- Permission granted to www.cheatmasters.com

July 13, 2011

- Permission granted to www.cheats.de to post this guide.

July 11, 2009

- The internals of this guide remain the same; however, I am adding a more robust disclaimer for reasons provided within disclaimer section.
- The guide overall has gotten a more defined look. New sections.
- I've divided the guide a bit more, hopefully to make it easier to read. instead of 20 types on the left I've now made it so there are 10.
- Changed some of the wording in "Chart Key" section.

August 05, 2007

- Permission granted to www.supercheats.com to post this guide.

July 28, 2007

- Added the dual-type Grass/Psychic as it appears I accidentally left it off the list.

September 30, 2004

- "Almost Completely Ineffective" should have read "Not Very Effective". This has been corrected.
- Included now are websites authorized to post this FAQ.

- (blank) "NORMAL EFFECTIVE" (variation #1)
 There is 1 Super Effective and 1 Not Very Effective in play here.
 One of the elements is weak to that particular element and the other one isn't that effective.
 EX. Fire VS Water/Grass
- (blank) "NORMAL EFFECTIVE" (variation #2)
 There are 2 Normal Effectives in play here. Both elements aren't one way or the other with the particular attack done on them.
 EX. Normal VS Water/Flying
- * "NOT VERY EFFECTIVE" (variation #1)
 There is 1 Normal Effective and 1 Not Very Effective in play here.
 One element is in the middle of the road on the element and the other has better resistance against it.
 EX. Fighting VS Flying/Dragon
- "NOT VERY EFFECTIVE" (variation #2)
 There are 2 Not Very Effectives in play here. Both elements the dual type Pokemon has aren't very effective. It does x0.25 the damage.
 EX. Fighting VS Flying/Bug
- = "UNEFFECTIVE"
 One or both of the types the dual-type Pokemon has is unaffected by the element. Even if it's just 1 Uneffective, it will nullify the attack and be rendered useless.
 EX. Ground VS Fire/Flying

PKMNRULES

Pkmmrules is the one that gave me a path to start on to originally start this project. He gave me an idea on how it should work and good ideas on how to do it. I thank Pkmmrules, because without him, this guide wouldn't exist. He was the one with the idea to create a guide such as this, but didn't have the time to fulfill the creation himself. As such, I took to the task with his blessing and support.

VINCE

This wonderful guide user contacted me after discovering that I had completely left out the Grass/Psychic type out of my chart. Thank you for helping me keep the guide as accurate as possible.

To all the people who've used this guide...

Thank you for using this guide. I put a lot of time and effort into it to make it the best possible guide for those seeking this information. I especially thank those who've taken the time to send me a nice email regarding this guide. I may not always respond, but do know that I appreciate the kind words.

Author Notes

This guide was created in mind originally for Pokemon Fire Red and Pokemon Leaf Green; however, due to the types staying similar, if not the same for the Pokemon in many of the games, this guide can be used for any Pokemon game in which you are seeking to find information on the dual-type Pokemon.

Again, if you find any errors in this guide, feel free to contact me regarding the issue and I'll try to correct it as soon as possible. If you have any comments or concerns, you may also feel free to contact me.
