Object of the Game
=====

While you can claim you're just satisfying a poker fix, the point of the game is to get nude shots of the girls. To accomplish this you play a "strip poker" game with each girl in an attempt to make them reveal these shots. You need to accumulate $1000 in order to see the first shot. Each successive shot comes after reaching $2000, $3000, $4000, and the final one at $5000. You can play three different girls: Full House Francine, Pok-er Penny, and Double-Dealing Debbie.

Tips and Stratagies

(See Poker Basics for any clarification on what I'm talking about)

There are two different stratagies you can consider using:

1. Quick & fast, high risk, high reward.

This strategy is used if you just want to progress quickly, as the high betting amounts lead to larger pots. However there is a risk of going downhill just as fast as you go up, so choose this option at your discretion.

- In this stratagy you open with a high bet (usually 90). Unless you get a good opening hand, you're usually bluffing. This high opening bet increases the chance of a fold by your opponent.
- Hope to get lucky when you turn in cards. Stay away from straights and flushes if using this strategy because your chances of success are smaller and you already risked a lot.
- If you hit a high pair (Jack or up) or anything better than that, I recommend to continue with your hand. If you hit only a small pair, it's up to you if you want to fold or continue. If nothing turned up after switching, just chalk it up as a loss to avoid further damage.
- Bet high again on your last bet to try to steal a fold, and then hope your hand won. From experience, the opponent usually turns up with a pair of some sort so your chances are good of getting a victory. If your opponent is raising you in the final hand after you bet high, you might want to back off if you have a weaker hand. While the opponent sometimes bluffs, this is also an indication of a straight draw.

2. Slow and steady

This is a strategy used if you don't mind being patient. I don't use this strategy myself just because it takes forever to get 1000 points and get a new pose. This is mostly a good strategy for real life poker when you want to outlast others.

- Make your first bet based on your opening hand. If you have nothing, just make a small bet. If you got a good pair or straight draw, consider a higher bet. Using this method you will lose less if your bad hands don't get better after switching cards.
- After switching out, bet low with pairs or two-pair, and higher on anything else you got.
- In this strategy you aren't likely to go in one direction too fast, so an occasional bluff isn't a bad idea, just try to do it with an ace high so you have something half-decent to fall on.

3. Poker Basics

===== Poker Terminology: =====

- Ante - A bet all players put in before each hand.
- Bet - Put money on your cards.
- Bluff - When someone bets without having a good hand.
- Check - Match the previous bet.
- Deck - All 52 cards.
- Fold - Give up the hand.
- Hand - The five cards the player is holding.
- Pass - Move the bet to the next player.
- Pot - The total value of all bets and antes.
- Raise - Increase the size of the bet.

===== Game Progression =====

Peek A Boo Poker is a special form of five card draw.
The order of play goes as follows:

1. Both players put in their ante. (Always 10 in this game)
2. Both players receive five cards.
3. You can choose to bet or pass.
  - If you bet, the opponent can raise, check, or fold.
  - If your opponent then raises, you can check or fold.
  - If you pass, your opponent can bet or fold.
  - If your opponent bets, you can check or fold.
4. After betting, you can choose any cards you want to trade out. (Unlike normal 5 card draw, you can switch out all 5 cards)
5. Players receive trade-in cards from deck.
6. Repeat betting process.
7. Players show their hands and the best hand collects the pot.

===== Winning a Hand =====

The following is what beats what in each hand. The list goes from best possible hand, to worst possible:

1. Royal Flush
  - A straight draw of 10-J-Q-K-A all in the same suit.
2. Straight Flush
  - Five cards that are in order with same suit. Ex: 2-3-4-5-6, all Hearts
3. Four-of-a-Kind
  - Four of the same card. Ex: J-J-J-J-5
4. Full House
  - Both a pair and a three-of-a-kind. Ex: 4-4-8-8-8
5. Flush
  - All five cards the same suit. Ex: 2-J-4-7-9, all Clubs.
6. Straight
  - Five cards in a row. Ex: 8-9-10-J-Q
7. Three-of-a-Kind
  - Three of the same cards. Ex: 3-3-3-A-6
8. Two-Pair
  - Two seperate pairs of cards. Ex: 7-7-K-K-6
9. Pair
  - Two of the same card. Ex: Q-Q-5-8-3
10. High Card
  - If you and your opponent have none of the above combinations, the player with the highest card in their hand wins. (Ex: Ace beats a 10)

In the case that both players are on the same level (Ex: both of you have a pair) the player with higher numbered card in the combination wins (IE: a pair of 6's beats a pair of 5's). The best card is an Ace, then King, then Queen, then Jack, and then the numbered cards.

If both players have a straight, the straight that ends on the highest card is the better straight. (Ex: 7-8-9-10-J would beat 5-6-7-8-9)

If both players end with the exact same best hand (both have a pair of Kings), then the player with the additional high card wins the hand. So if you and the opponent both have two kings, and your other three cards are 6-8-J and her cards are 3-6-8, you would win because your Jack is the highest card remaining. (Note: I do not know what happens if both players get the same straight, I have not encountered this in the game)
