Intro

     Tecmo NBA Basketball is a sports game for the NES. Although the controls may be a little primitive, it still brings excitement. It is rather a simple game once you get the hang of it. You start with 5 players on the field and 7 on the bench. It's always that way unless someone's injured. You can adjust the time, speed, and difficulty also.(Difficulty change is exhibition only.)

Controls

On the Menu Screen- The basic buttons
A button- Confirm; Advance to the next screen.
B button- Cancel; Move back to the last screen.
Control Pad- Move to different options.

On the court- offense
Control Pad- move
A button- pass
B button- shoot

On the court- defense
Control Pad- move
A button- change player
B button- jump/steal

Frequently Asked Questions (Well, if the game were recent and popular)

Q: Who are the top scorers on each team?
A: Most team have just one top scorer, other teams have 2 that are very close.
Here they are:
Atlanta: Dominique Wilkins
Boston: Reggie Lewis; Larry Bird
Charlotte: Kendall Gill
Chicago: Michael Jordan

Cleveland: Brad Daugherty
Dallas: Derek Harper; Rolando Blackman
Denver: Scott Hastings
Detroit: Joe Dumars
Golden State: Chris Mullin
Houston: Hakeem Olajuwon
Indiana: Reggie Miller
LA Clippers: Danny Manning
LA Lakers: Magic Johnson
Miami: Glen Rice
Milwaukee: Dale Ellis
Minnesota: Jerome Richardson; Tony Campbell
New Jersey: Drazen Petrovic; Derrick Coleman
New York: Patrick Ewing
Orlando: Nick Anderson
Philadelphia: Charles Barkley
Phoenix: Kevin Johnson; Jeff Hornacek
Portland: Clyde Drexler
Sacramento: Mitch Richmond
San Antonio: David Robinson
Seattle: Ricky Pierce
Utah: Karl Malone
Washington: Pervis Ellison
```

Q: Where's Shaq? Isn't this his rookie season?
A: Nope. His rookie season is the '92-'93 season, and this is based on the
'91-'92 season.

Q: Can you tell me the players that score < 1.0 PPG during the season?
A: Some of these people bounce between 1.0 and 0.?. Others'll never get past
.7. Others are barely over 1.0.
Here are the lousy scorers:
```
Atlanta: Alezander Volkov; Jon Koncak
Boston: Joe Kleine
Charlotte: Eric Leckner
Detroit: Bob McCann; Mark Bradtke
Golden State: Tom Tolbert
L.A. Lakers: Chucky Brown; Jack Haley; Elden Campbell
Miami: Jon Sundvold
Minnesota: Tod Murphy
Phoenix: Ed Nealy; Kurt Rambis
Sacramento: Les Jepsen
Washington: Bernard King (must be an error in the game that caused that);
Charles Jones
```

Q: A few people have Really good 3PT%. (.996, .800) Does this mean they'll make almost all of them?
A: No. Pete Chilcutt, Jon Sundvold, and Greg Dreiling, the people who have
.996% Are NOT good 3PT shooters. Dreiling and Chilcutt are not made to shoot 3-pointers in this game. Loy Vaught has .800, and he is pretty good at 3PT shooting, but he won't make 4 out of 5. Any centers that have .500 are probably not going to shoot 3-pointers well either. (Note that people with .996 most likely went for 1 for 1 in the season this was based on, hence why they have it)

Q: Can you trade/draft players in this game?
A: No.

Q: Can you create players?
A: No. Remember that no games really start letting you create players until the SNES days.

Q: Who are the best/worst teams?
A: Sacramento is the worst. Portland, is the best.

Q: Where's the save button?
A: It saves automatically.

Q: What happened to February 7-10?
A: All-Star Break

Q: If someone has .000 3PT%, does that mean they'll never make one?
A: Not necessarily. I saw Larry Nance make one, and he has .000

Q: How can Scott Hastings have so much P.P.G. if he's a bench warmer?
A: Probably a bug.

Q: Why can't/doesn't Washington's bench shoot?
A: Not sure. They're probably a weak team in general.

Q: Who are the best scorers?
A: Michael Jordan, Karl Malone, Chris Mullin, and Dominique Wilkins.

Tips and Strategies

On the court, things can get a little rough sometimes, causing you to lose concentration. Here are some easy tips to help you out.
*If someone has a bad, or even a good 3 point percentage, don't go to the opposite basket and try and make a shot there. You won't make it.
*If someone misses a slam dunk or a lay-up, substitute them. They're obviously tired. (there are exceptions.)
*Don't pass excessively. You'll increase your chances of a steal.
*If someone with bad Free Throw % is going for free throws, you can always change the person making them.
*If someone's open, pass it to them. (optional :P)
*If someone's condition is bad, substitute them.
*Try not to foul out. If someone's near a foul-out, keep them out for a while and let them cool off.
*If someone is bad at shooting, you don't have to use them to shoot. They have other purposes. (i.e. Mark Eaton, Manute Bol)
*Use 3 pointers when you can. Only use people that are real good at it though.

*Read the FAQ before e-mailing about a problem.

* Preseason *
****
The preseason mode is a must for beginners, great for practice, and great for building up self-esteem after an embarrassing loss. In the preseason mode, you basically play a season game minus injuries (unless they were suffered is season mode and they haven't recovered), fixed opponents, and lowered morale. That is all a preseason game does-prepare you for season mode.

* Season *

The season mode is the big enchilada of the game. It's the part that is 82 games long (or fewer depending on what you choose), has injuries, has you control the action if you desire, and have you win championships. Season mode is a little more complicated data-wise. (See player data.)

Schedule

The schedule is a big part of this game. Without it, you won't know what team you're up against, and you won't be able to prepare.

Regular is the 82-game schedule. It's completely normal: no games are taken out.

Reduced is only 42 games, about half of what the regular season was.
Quite a bit of games are taken out.

Short is 26 games. 1 loss could prevent you from reaching the playoffs easily in this situation. A lot of games are cut out.

In a programmed season, you decide the wins/losses of each team before you begin. Then, they decide what games to play.

Listed Below is the schedules for all three modes where the schedule is fixed;
regular, reduced, and short.

Injury Guide
-------------------------------------------------------------------------
In the injury guide is the list of injuries a player could sustain, and how long they would be out. It goes by games, so in a short season, injuries could be a big problem.

Injury                       |    How many games are sat out(approx.)
-----------------------------|-----------------------------------------
Eye Cut                      |      1-3
Hip Pointer                  |      1-3
Ankle Sprain                 |      2-4

Wrist Sprain              |      2-4
Broken Nose               |      3-5
Broken Finger             |      4-6
Hamstring Pull            |      4-6
Knee Strain               |      5-7
Groin Pull                |      5-8
Hyperextension            |      6-8
Ligament Strain           |      6-8
Wrist Fracture            |      10-13
Broken Ankle              |      12-15
Broken Leg                |      14-17

In a short season, the last three have a good chance of putting you out for the season, or at least a huge amount of it.

*****************************************************************************
* All-Star Game *
*****************************************************************************
```
The All-Star Game is a lot like the preseason game, but with a few exceptions.
First, if the player suffered an injury in season, he won't have it in all star mode. Second, and more obvious, is that it's all the star players from each division. You just choose between East and West. Besides that, it's just like preseason.

Team Data is where you can look and see how teams, as well as the players, are doing. Most of this will be in Player Data.

* Studies *
*****************************************************************************
What are studies? Studies are where I evaluate the teams based on certain things, like whether they are a better team if the game's simulated or watched.

====================
Study 1- Team Records
====================

This study basically shows the range of victories a team will get in a typical season. 3 seasons are done to attempt to navigate around any big injuries that a player may suffer.

Atlanta: 41, 38, 33
Boston: 57, 54, 55
Charlotte: 23, 22, 23
Chicago: 65, 62, 61
Cleveland: 56, 59, 58
Dallas: 16, 23, 19
Denver: 25, 21, 13
Detroit: 52, 47, 64
Golden State: 57, 67, 66
Houston: 39, 50, 46
Indiana: 43, 47, 38
LA Clippers: 35, 28, 39
LA Lakers: 47, 55, 52
Miami: 26, 36, 37
Milwaukee: 31, 30, 36
Minnesota: 21, 20, 23
New Jersey: 36, 30, 28
New York: 54, 53, 60
Orlando: 26, 22, 23
Philadelphia: 40, 34, 33
Phoenix: 57, 59, 59
Portland: 70, 74, 65
Sacramento: 14, 9, 12
San Antonio: 58, 50, 51
Seattle: 50, 49, 44
Utah: 49, 50, 50
Washington: 19, 18, 19

As you can see, some teams tend to win around the same number of wins, while some bounce around quite a bit.

I'd like to thank:
Tecmo for making the game
My NES for not having those modern loading waits.
Anyone directly or indirectly involved.
