

trademark move that is shared with another wrestler. In WWF No Mercy, each wrestler has 4 "slots", at which they usually wear different outfits (ie: slot #3 is usually a referees outfit). However you can actually use those slots, and edit the wrestlers appearance, name, entrance music, height, weight etc.

You can also use these slots to add in created wrestlers.

If you write down a list of a wrestlers trademark moves, and you look about at the move lists in WWF No Mercy, you can usually find at least one wrestler that has those moves, or variations of them. Sometimes these can be very close (ie: Christian has same front/back specials as Billy Kidman would have), to very vague (ie: Rikishi and Earthquake, because both are big, fat guys).

This FAQ will cover wrestlers, how they fit in over another wrestler, and the reason(s) why. If you have any of your own to submit, or any suggestions, please send them to me at gjmccg@kingston.net. I have over 300 to eventually put in, so expect regular updates to this FAQ. If I mention a wrestler here who you don't know how to create, e-mail me and I will provide his CAW to you either in this FAQ, or via e-mail.

Please read the "FAQ's" section of this FAQ (Section #5) before e-mailing me though.

Alex Wright

Slot: Kurt Angle - Slot #3.

Reason: One of Angles back moves are a German suplex, which Wright often uses. Both of them use similar dancing moves, and their movesets are extremely similar.

Billy Kidman

Slot: Christian - Slot #2.

Reason: Both high-flyers. Front special and back special are the same.
Only flaw is that he won't have the shooting star press. However, no other wrestlers in the game do have anyway.

Brutus "The Barber" Beefcake

Slot: Billy Gunn - Slot #2.

Reason: It's the only gimmick Ed Leslie hasn't used yet. Har-de-har.
No...Beefcake's finisher was the sleeper and Gunn uses that as a back strong grapple.

Chaz

Slot: D-Lo Brown - Slot #3.

Reason: First off, they're tag team partners. Second, their tag finisher was a superplex by Chaz, then a frog splash by D-Lo, and both these moves are in this moveset. Also similar wrestling style.

Chris Candido

Slot: Chris Benoit - Slot #2.

Reason: Benoit has a top-rope powerbomb as corner special, which is basically the "Blond Bombshell". Similar movelists.

Daffney

Slot: Lita - Slot #2.

Reason: One of the only WCW female wrestlers with talent, plus the "screamerrana", or "frankenscreamer" or whatever you want to call it, makes her a perfect fit in Lita's slot.

Diamond Dallas Page

Slot: Bubba Ray Dudley - Slot #3.

Reason: Bubba has all possible Diamond Cutters. Only problem is no Diamond Cutter sign. Ah well.

Disco

Slot: Steve Austin - Slot #2.

Reason: If you don't want to do this, feel free to not do it, however these two do match up well. Disco's finisher, The Last Dance, is the Stunner, and he also does the mudhole stomping, plus both move lists are extremely similar.

Droz

Slot: Bubba Ray Dudley - Slot #4.

Reason: Bubba has tiger bomb, which was Droz's finisher.

Earthquake

Slot: Andre The Giant - Slot #2.

Reason: Same high-flying, death-defying moves. Also the running butt splash!

Ernest "The Cat" Miller

Slot: Shawn Michaels - Slot #2.

Reason: Agility, dancelike taunts, and of course the Superkick(Feliner). Plus if Miller would ever actually wrestle anymore, you'd see him and HBK have similar movesets Miller used to use all the time on WCW Saturday Night.

Gangrel

Slot: Perry Saturn - Slot #2.

Reason: It's been awhile since Gangrels featured on TV. However move lists are very similar, and back special is a tiger suplex pin, which Gangrel has recently used on WWF Jakked.

Goldust

Slot: Faarooq - Slot #2.

Reason: Finishers and move lists are similar.

Kevin Nash

Slot: Undertaker - Slot #3.

Reason: Big boot, powerbomb as finisher, both lazy as hell.

Kid Kash

Slot: Eddie Guerrero - Slot #2.

Reason: Movelists are similar. Guerrero and Cash have the same top-rope huracarana.

Joey Abs

Slot: Shane McMahon - Slot #2.

Reason: Despite being an awesome wrestler, Jasons gimmick in the WWF rarely saw him do what he does best; WRESTLE. Thus the Joey Abs gimmick is perfect for the slot of his one-time good buddy, and also rather poor wrestler(in this game), Shane McMahon.

Juventud Guerrera

Slot: TAKA Michinoku - Slot #4.

Reason: This was a tough choice. I originally had him in Matt Hardy's slot #2 due to the 450 splash being his top-rope special. However the lack of a Juvi Driver really bugged me, and TAKA has that move(Michinoku Driver), plus the same high-flying type moves as Juvi. The top-rope special is a back flip splash too, so I decided Juventud would be better in TAKAs slot #4.

Legion of Doom/The Road Warriors

Slots: Hawk - Bubba Ray Dudley - Slot #2.
Animal - D-Von Dudley - Slot #2.

Reason: First off, they're a tag team. Second, very powerful tag team, just as LOD were. One of Hawks trademark moves was a neckbreaker, which Bubba has in his move list(also the 3/4 turn neckbreaker as front special). Running moves are very similar. Animal has the running shoulderblock, as does D-Von. And finally....The Domsday Device, which the Dudleys have, and which is LOD's trademark move.

Madusa

Slot: Chyna - Slot #2.

Reason: Let's be honest; when Madusa returned under the Vince Russo regime in WCW, she was being made out as the new Chyna. While both these females don't exactly have the movelists that would have Liger or Angle shaking in their boots, they do have similar power-moves mixed with some high-flying style, which makes them a perfect match for this game.

Major Gunns

Slot: Tori - Slot #2.

Reason: Blah. Almost talentless females. Next.

Mark Jindrak

Slot: Matt Hardy - Slot #2.

Reason: Mark and Sean O'Haire were basically a bigger version of the Hardy Boyz. With Sean in Jeffs slot, putting Mark in this slot seems natural. Plus movelist, agility yada yada.

Midajah

Slot: Ivory - Slot #3.

Reason: Blah. Talentless females. NEXT!

Miss Hancock

Slot: Terri - Slot #4.

Reason: Blah. Talentless females. NEXT!

Molly Holly

Slot: Crash Holly - Slot #2.

Reason: I love her. Oh sorry...reasons why she should be in this slot? Well first I'd like to propose marriage to her. Hey I'm a 20 year old who makes game FAQs; who could resist me? Anyway shes a good wrestler, and so's Crash. He just isn't as sweet as her. Awwwww.

cough...moving on...

Mr. Perfect

Slot: Val Venis - Slot #2.

Reason: Move sets similar. Front special is fishermans suplex(Perfect-Plex). Also one of standing striking moves is a dropkick, one of Mr. Perfects trademark moves. Recommended to make this a favourite move.

Papa Shango

Slot: Godfather - Slot #3.

Reason: They're the same guy! He even has Papas finisher! Oh yeah toss Godfather in at #1, and Goodfather at #2 if they're not in there already.

Pete Gas

Slot: Shane McMahon - Slot #4.

Reason: A poor wrestler(at the time), it seems fitting to put him in the same slot as poor wrestler and one-time buddy and stable mate, Shane O-Mac.

Rey Misterio Jr

Slot: X-Pac - Slot #2.

Reason: Do I really need to explain this one? Both high-flyers, both use the facebuster/X-Factor, broncobuster, huracarana(including top-rope huracarana). The way Rey's gimmick has gone as of late, even the taunts are similar. Almost a perfect match.

Roadkill

Slot: Big Boss Man - Slot #2.

Reason: Boss Man Slam and The Dirt Road Slam are the same. Also body splash. No TKO/Barn Burner though.

Rodney

Slot: Shane McMahon - Slot #3.

Reason: A poor wrestler(at the time), it seems fitting to put him in the same slot as poor wrestler and one-time buddy and stable mate, Shane O-Mac.

Sabu

Slot: Matt Hardy - Slot #4.

Reason: Both crazy wrestlers. Legdrop featured prominently. Suicide dives etc. These fit perfectly in Wrestlemania 2000, and they do in WWF No Mercy too.

Scott Norton

Slot: Perry Saturn - Slot #3.

Reason: Has Nortons two key moves; snap powerbomb 2, and brainbuster. Also a lot of power moves. No super shoulderbreaker though.

With only 18 slots to create wrestlers, you don't have too much room. However, if you can combine 4 wrestlers into each different CAW slot, then that's 72 different wrestlers you can create, not counting the ones you can add onto existing wrestlers(section 3); meaning up to 72 wrestlers can have their specific taunts and moves, as you want them.

Note: Any other trademarks for the below that I missed, feel free to suggest to me at gjmcmg@Kingston.net and I'll add them in.

Wanting to create some of the wrestlers in here, but don't know how? Well I'd recommend just watching them on TV, or on a tape or whatever, or even finding a picture on the net and following from there. But failing that, here is a list of CAW Websites/Message boards for you to check:

Q: How do I add...for example, Billy Kidman into Christians slot #2, and so on?

A: The steps:

1. Start Up No Mercy.
2. Enter the Smackdown Mall.
3. Enter Superstar Options.
4. Enter Edit A Superstar.
5. (For this example) Locate Christian, and click C-> (C-Right) once.
6. He should be wearing a different outfit, and it should say Type [2] at the bottom. Hit "A" and you're free to edit his appearance, and profile/music, and from there you can enter Kidman.

Q: How do I create _____?

A: Up above, section #5.

Q: Can I put your FAQ on my site?

A: Yeah. Just mail me the URL once it's up.

Well that's it for this version of the FAQ. Except updates whenever I get a chance. The reason I list the slot number for each wrestler is you can usually fit more than one wrestler in that slot(ie: My Matt Hardy slot also has Mark Jindrak as well as Sabu). If you have any suggestions, please send them along to gjmcg@kingston.net

Thanks for reading this FAQ, thanks to GameFAQs for publishing it, and stay tuned for the next update! Some more format changes are in store for the next update as well as a bunch more wrasslers!

Note: Please do not steal this FAQ. In the future it will become available for websites to use, but as it's obviously a work in progress at the moment, I want to keep it at one website until it's respectful enough to go out on other sites. Thank you.
