-- Double Team --

-- Women's --

The Women's Championship is probably the easiest belt to win in WWF No Mercy. You are suppose to chose your favorite woman wrestler, and begin a short, quick journey to the top of the division. However, you are able to select ANY character for this mode.

-- Light Heavyweight --

The Light Heavyweight division is the similiar to WCW's Cruiserweight division. The smaller stars (under 230 lbs. I think) of the WWF are able to compete for this belt. The WWF never really successfully ran the Light Heavyweight division, which is a disappointment because they've had the talent. Most of the stars in the Light Heavyweight division are aerial talents. It is possible to use any superstar in your quest to become Light Heavyweight champ. It does not matter if you are using a Light Heavyweight, Woman, Heavyweight, or even a Super Heavyweight, they are all eligible in the game.

-- Hardcore --

The Hardcore title is one of the most worthless titles ever created in WWF's storied history. It was amusing to watch hardcore matches up until the 24/7 rule was instated, then it became ignorant. Anyway, while you are trying to capture the Hardcore title, you are allowed to use any weapon in the game. The only rule in Hardcore matches is that there are no rules.

-- European --

Although this title was first captured by the then WWF Chamion, Shawn Michaels, this title is usually possessed by young, up and coming WWF stars that have the potential to become superstars. In other words, this title is used as a stepping stone for them to possibly achieve greatness. The adventure you embark trying to become European Champion is neither short or lengthy, just kind of in the middle.

-- Tag Team --

In the Tag Team division, you are able to select to of your favorite WWF superstars to team up and try to become the top tag team. Do you feel that it is your destiny to become an even greater tag team than Edge & Christian, the Hart Foundation, or even the Road Warriors? If so, try your lock on this long quest.

-- Intercontinental --

-- Singles Match --

This is the 1 on 1 exhibition match. You can change the rules and settings to make it the kind of match you want, like First Blood for example.

-- Tag Team Match --

This is the 2 on 2 exhibition match. Again, you can change the rules and settings if you wish. Tornado Tag matches are also possible, just change the tag time to No Tag Time.

-- Triple Threat --

This is a match where 3 competitors go against each other. The first person to score a pinfall on either of the other 2 is declared the winner.

-- Handicap Match --

This is a match where 1 person faces 2 opponents at the same time. You can change the tag time to make it a 2 on 1 match with no tags for an added challenge.

-- Cage Match --

This is a regular match which takes place inside a steel cage. To win, you must either escape the cage or score a pinfall or submission on your opponent.

-- Royal Rumble --

This is one of my favorite modes, as you all should know what the royal rumble is. If you don't, two men start in the ring, and every so often, another enters. Elimination is done by throwing your opponent over the top rope and both feet must touch the floor. Only four people can be in the ring at a time, which sucks, but that's the N64 for you.

-- Pay Per View --

You can create your own pay per view event. If you spend more than 3 minutes,
