power, but i would only recommend using it as a support weapon with allies. Me, i prefer it up close and personal. And last but not least, The Heavy Bowgun, basically a Light Bowgun on steroids. More attack power, but slower speed. Then you have your armor. Both for Blademasters and for Gunner. Blademasters have more defense then Gunners. But, to me, i think some of the Gunners equipment are cooler looking. This FAQ is pretty much going to get you through the whole game. I can't say your going to be a pro, quite like myself heh, but you wont be a noob anymore. Ill tell you info on how to take down some of the biggest monsters with the slightest of ease. I hope this FAQ helps you with your future Monster Hunting....so get out there and explore the wide world Monster Hunter.
