INTRODUCTION:

One of "Final Fantasy IX's" (FFIX or FF9) unique features of the FF series is Synthesis Shops where players can put 2 items together, pay the correct amount of gil, and have them combined to produce a new (usually more powerful or useful) equipment or item. Because of the Synthesis feature, players are advised to always keep their items, especially equipments. However, at times, players find themselves short on gil or taking forever to scroll through the long and growing list of items just to find the one thing they are looking for.

I have noticed quite a few items that are not used for synthesis, which I will call "non-synthesis items." Knowing the non-synthesis items could help players gain more gil (for better equipment and items) by selling them when the players decide that they no longer need the items. It could also help in some battles when Amarant is in the party: he could use non-synthesis weapons against monsters with the Throw command.

Those are the reasons I decided to make a list of non-synthesis items, and turn it into a faq. This way, players have more items to use, sell, or just get off the list.

NON-SYNTHESIS ITEMS

Below are the non-synthesis items. Each character has his or her own unique weapons, so the lists of weapons will be grouped by character. Rackets can be used by both Garnet and Eiko, so they will have their own separate list. Most armor, head gear, arm gear, and add-ons are useable by multiple characters, making them difficult to group by characters. That's why they are grouped only by armor, head gear, arm gear, and add-ons. Finally is the list of non-equipping items: they are used with the Item command in battles or Use command in the Item menu outside of battles. The items in each list are arranged in alphabetical order.

It is recommended that players do not sell, use, or throw rare or miss-able items until the final bosses of the game, unless there is no choice. For each item, try to keep them until all party members have learned every ability they can learn from it.

I have abbreviated the following terms in the guide:

r: Rare items (not bought in stores, usually gained from an event or quest)

m: Miss-able items (Rebirth Flame's term for items not always available in stores after a certain point in the game)

Save the Queen (m)

Cost: 50000 g, Javelin (m), Silver Gloves (m)

Sell: 25000 g

Stat: Atk +23, Spd +1, Str +2, Mag +2, Spr +5

Elem: Reduces Fire damage by 50%

Abilities: n/a

Users: Amarant with Throw command, Beatrix

Location:

Equipped on Beatrix (Disc 2,3)

Synth at Hades Synthesis Shop (Disc 4)

Comment: Javelin can't be bought after Lindblum in Disc 1 while Silver Gloves can't be bought after Summit Station in Disc 2. Though Beatrix can equip it, I still call it a "non-equipping item" since no one in the FF9 main party can equip it. Having "Save the Queen" in your inventory does not change the ending of the game as stated in some sources.

Tent

Cost: 800 g

Sell: 400 g

Function:

Restores HP and MP at Save Moogles

Gives monsters status effects in battles

Location: Buy at any Item shop

Key Items can never be sold in shops or used with battle or menu commands.

Thank you to the following:

Squaresoft for producing the "Final Fantasy" games. I have been enjoying these RPGs for many years.

"Final Fantasy Insider" site for the walkthrough and game lists.

Gamefaqs for posting the many great walkthroughs and faqs, and their members for writing nice guides.

Rebirth Flame for the Miss-able Items faq and Equipment Location List. They helped me play the game, inspired me to write this faq, and helped me double check while writing it.

Couch Potato for the Synthesis Guide faq and The Freelancer for the Shop Lists faq. They not only guided me during the gameplay, but also helped me double check this faq.

Allex, ATadeo, Masvega, Nemesis, Psycho Penguin, TestaALT, and Xiamut for their FFIIX walkthroughs. Great job! I repeatedly referred to them to play the game and double-check this faq.

Scottie theNerd, SayainPrince, and Sashanan on what details and information to add to this faq.

Feel free to contact me at fishy071@yahoo.com regarding mistakes. Please put FF, Gamefaqs, or something related in the Subject line so they don't get mistaken for junk e-mail.
