HEALTH PACKS

*****

Introduction

-----

Loosing Helath? How are you going to survive? During the game, you can get little health powerups that will...well, keep you alive. there are 3 different types. Here are a list of them and a little information.

Medical Canteen

-----

Looks like a little bottle, contains water, or something. This boosts yourself up by %10, yes I know, wow thats a real lot! But think , this could save you one day. Just think, maybe you forget the jump button and are mauled by dogs in a trench with no weapons, maybe the Medical Canteen will help you stay alive, untlil you get mauled again.

First Aid kit

-----

Looks like a little, flat pack with a + on it, only bigger. This revives your health by 25%, so if you have 50%, you will now get 75%. Makes sense.

Field Surgeon pack

-----

Just looks like a big pack, hell, if you have been playing this game for so long anyway, or even the first few levels, you will know what this looks like. It gains your health %50, so this pack will be the rarest that you will see in the game.

PACK TIPS

*****

Scattered

-----

Health packs are generally scattered all over the place. They can be found in common places, to downright secret places. Search everywhere for them.

Carrying

-----

Usually if an enemy doesn't drop a gun, then they will drop one of these. Some enemies carry health packs with them, and when they die, they drop them. Pick them up from that.

Right time

-----

If you have pretty high health and come across 2 health packs, 1 a field surgeon, and also a medical canteen, take the medical canteen. Try not to waste medical kits. If you have 90% health, and you use the field surgeon pack, you don't get back the 40%, that you just wasted. Think smart.

Come back to them

If you do see a field surgeon pack and you have very high health, come back for it later when you might be bleeding severely.

Have a Question about Medal OF Honour Underground? Feel free to ask me. Have a submission, please feel free to submit it to the guide via email. All submissions will be credited. Email: Wayallal@yahoo.com.au
Rules:

- Do Put Medal Of Honour Underground in the Topic section, otherwise I will delete it on sight and you will never get a reply back from your e-mail. Something like "MOHU Question", "Medal Of Honour", MOH Submissions" anything like that will be answered.
- Stick to the Topic of the game, don't go off and start asking personal questions, otherwise you wil never get an email back, and if nessecary, your e-mail account will be blocked.
- Try and use correct spelling, afeew mistakes are okay, but I'm sick of getting e-mails from people who can't use the spell check: Like this: "Do now if any code game" I have gotten one very similar from someone on my "Syphon Filter 3" guide.
- Mention the game, I recie e-mail from "Dickheads" who ask me: "I stuck on the level with the guy shooting at me, pls help" Im not a mind reader to know what game you are talking about, let alone what level in any game. It may seem simple, but people can not include it. ---Miesweepers E-mail policy fits in good here, so I thank him for this phrase:
- Please don't send me a question that is already answered in the guide, I will delete it probably unless it is something that I haven't explained really well, if you can waste time playing video games, you can defently waste some time reading through this guide and looking for the answer.
- Don't send me spam, Do not waste my time with any of that crap.
