2] INTRODUCTION =====

Hello there fellow Ogre Battle fanatics! I wrote this FAQ for people who like to use codes on Ogre Battle, so please feel free to use these codes however you like. If you wish to use any or all of this FAQ on your website or in your own FAQ, that's fine, as long as you give me credit for discovering most of these codes.

For those of you who don't know how to use these codes, I'll try to explain it pretty quickly.

If you are using a console Playstation, you must have a Gameshark or another cheating device that can use Gameshark codes. If you are using an emulator (such as ePSXe or Bleem!) you need to have a cheater program. I recommend PEC (PSX Emulation Cheater) which can be found at <http://www.emucheater.com>

Now, after you have your cheating device/program (and the game, of course) You might be wondering about how the cheat codes are listed as characters 1- 100. This is easy to explain, but a pain to actually find unless you start a new game and keep close track of the order the characters join your army in. Yep, that's right, the game simply numbers your characters in the order that they join your army. Because this understandably makes it hard to keep track of your army, I recommend just erasing everyone you get after you beat the first stage(except special characters), and recruiting new characters, keeping track of them as they are recruited. In order to recruit the characters you want, you should use the cheat codes to change your recruiting character's class so you can recruit the various classes you want.

That should cover everything you need to know, but if not, feel free to e-mail me at the address in the credits section of this FAQ.

2B] Which One is Character Number.....

---

This section will tell you the easiest way to find out which characters in your army are which numbers.

The EASIEST way to do this is start a NEW GAME!

Start a game and cheat as soon as you beat the very first stage. When you get your default army(when Warren joins) ERASE IT! That's right, you heard me! Erase almost every character, only saving Warren, Lans, and of course your main character, the Lord class leader. Then use the class changing codes found here to change the class of either Warren or Lans (the hero can't recruit no matter WHAT class he is). From now on i'll refer to whichever character you are using to recruit your army with as the Recruiter.

Use the Recruiter to hire new characters for your army IN ORDER IN THE UNITS! If you are using the cartridge, it is a pain to do any serious cheating, since you can't just change codes in the middle of the game, you have to keep resetting. But if you are using an emulator(I recommend ePSXe from www.ePSXe.com) you can change codes while playing. You also should get an external program called Playstation Emulation Cheater, which can be found at www.emucheater.com

You are probably going to have to change codes ALOT unless you change the Recruiter into a paladin and get a whole army of only clerics and paladins(BOOORING!). After you recruit your army, you can start playing the game like usual.

But BE CAREFUL! If you want to keep track of your army after special characters start to join, and you plan on putting them into your existing units, it's best to ERASE the character you plan on replacing! This way you free up the number that character was stored in, and the special character then takes that number! AND KEEP TRACK OF EVERYTHING!!!

The HARDER way to do this is if you start cheating in an EXISTING GAME!

The best way to find out which characters are which is to use my characters cost codes. This might take a while longer than the above method, but if you are far into the game and don't want to start over, then use this method.

First of all, count your characters! Enter that number of codes. For example, if you have 60 characters, enter 60 codes to start with. You may have to enter more codes later, depending on how many characters you had when the last character you still have joined your army. So just start at your current number of characters and go from there.

Second, start entering codes! Start at CHARACTER 2!! You already know who character 1 is! Your opinion leader, the Lord class! Now, starting with the code for character 2, use 200 Goth. For character 3, 300 Goth. And keep entering codes like this, and using the example above, the last code you should enter is character 60 at 6000 Goth. This makes it very easy to see who is who.

WARNING!!!: DO NOT SAVE THE GAME WITH THE CHARACTER COSTS CHANGE!

Unless you like having your characters with really wierd deployment costs :p

Third, WRITE IT DOWN! You don't want to have to go through this again later! Just write down each character's name, which number they are, and keep track of all the changes you make to your army!

Fourth, you must... just kidding! Once you have it all figured out, just KEEP TRACK OF EVERYTHING!! Once you know what is going on, it's not so bad. But I still prefer making an army from scratch in the proper order. That way you don't have to write everything down.

That should be all you need to know. If you still need any help, do not hesitate to write me an e-mail at newcouchpotato@aol.com , but be sure to have the word OGRE somewhere in the beginning of the subject line of your e-mail, or it might get erased along with the SPAM! :p

3] MISCELLANEOUS CODES =====

Use these codes to cheat your butt off!!

---

3A] Infinite Attack Codes

---

These codes are for people who are having trouble winning any fights, or people who just love totally dominating the game. Or if you make both your units and the enemy units have infinite attacks, it turns into a slugfest where the number of attacks dosen't matter, and the strongest unit survives(my personal favorite use for this code). Or you could give only the enemy units infinite attacks, so you either finish them all off with your normal number of attacks, or die. This use is pretty silly, but

I am just including them to be complete.

WARNING: Make sure you leave these codes on for the entire battle, or you may have to run away or use Tarot cards to end the fight.

Codeset 1: These codes will give ONLY your units infinite attacks.

3D] Neutral Encounter Codes

Use these codes to have it ALWAYS day or night, and get either LOTS of neutral encounters or NONE! It has to be always day or night, or the screen flickers, but otherwise these are great codes!

NOTE: Use these codes to greatly increase your neutral encounter rate, or reduce it to nothing. Enjoy!

LOTS of encounters and always DAY:

301E3AB4 0030
301B2C4C 000C

LOTS of encounters and always NIGHT:

301E3AB4 0030
301B2C4C 0000

NO encounters and always DAY:

301E3AB4 001F
301B2C4C 000C

NO encounters and always NIGHT:

301E3AB4 001F
301B2C4C 0000

3E] Attack/Position Codes

---

Use these codes to change your characters' positions in their unit, and their number of attacks. If you place your characters in overlapping positions, their icons and their HP bars will look kind of messed up, but they will still work fine.

You can use these codes to put all of your characters in the back or front rows! It will be really crowded, but that means you can have 5 liches in the back row of one unit! Massive Overkill!

WARNING: These codes must be left ON at all times during a stage, or the number of attacks may return to normal.

IMPORTANT: The characters in a unit are numbered as they are added to the unit. So the first character to enter a unit is Character 1, the second character to enter a unit is Character 2, and so on.

NOTE: Replace the X in the following codes with a value from below the code for Unit 20 / Character 5.

Replace the Y in the following codes with a value from below the value list for X.

3G] Character In-Battle Codes

---

Use these codes to change your units' strength, agility, and intelligence during battle. There are two advantages to using these codes instead of the character codes. One advantage is that your characters' actual stats are not changed, so after you turn the codes off, you can play with their regular stats. The other advantage is that you can go far past the normal max values! You can give your characters enough strength or intelligence to kill anything in one hit! Or enough agility to always hit the enemy and almost never be hit!

NOTE: Replace the ??? in the following codes with a value from below the codes for Agility.

3J] Number of Enemy Units Codes

Use these codes to change the number of each different type of enemy unit that appears in each stage. That means you can fight more enemies, less enemies, no enemies, or infinite enemies! You can also change the number of units in the Temple Shalina stage to something less than 255 of each unit, which is what it is set at!

WARNING!: Do NOT set a number to a unit that doesn't exist - make sure you know how many different types of units there are in a stage. If you set a number greater than 0 to a unit that isn't set in the game, you get wierd empty units that appear and disappear.

EXTRA: If you leave these codes on during a stage when you set a number greater than 0, you will face infinite units. If you set all enemy units to 0, you will only have to fight the stage Boss!

NOTE: Replace the ?? in the following codes with a value from below the code for Enemy Unit 9.

Enemy Unit 1
30159FBD 00??

Enemy Unit 2
30159FBE 00??

Enemy Unit 3

4] CHARACTER CODES =====

Use these codes to change your characters' attributes. You can make your entire army over to be whatever you want it to be. Have fun!

---

4A] Name Changing Codes

---

These codes are to change your characters' names. You can't enter any name you want in this game, you have to choose it from preset names. Notice that I am including character 1, your leader, even though you can pick his/her name at the start of the game. This is just for the sake of completeness, or maybe if you feel like changing that name later. But if you do change it later, you will have to pick from the name list.

NOTE: With these codes, replace the ???? with one of the 4 digit codes below the last character code.

4B] Character Color/ID Codes

---

Use these codes to change your characters' colors and their ID. Now when I say ID, I mean who the game recognizes the character as. That's right, if you change the color for a special character, the game will see them as whoever you changed them into. So be careful, or you might miss some story lines or an ending!

The really cool thing about these codes, though, is that you can get colors you never had access to before! You can get boss colors and everything! Sweet! Okay, onto the codes!

Because alot of the unique classes(boss classes) use the default colors, I will not include them, beacuse there is no point in it. I will only include the values that change colors or the identities of key people to the story. Note that after Galf, there are alot of color descriptions. These are color schemes that were not assigned to anyone, but are in the game for some reason. So I am including them to give you something fun to play with!!

////////////////////////////////////
// EASIER WAY TO CHANGE COLORS: //
////////////////////////////////////

Here is a faster way to find the color scheme you want.

(Assuming you are using a Playstation console) Just do this:

1. Change your character's color to the first one you want to try using the color codes. For example, if you want to start with the first unknown color scheme for character 1, you would enter 301C5FF8 007E.
2. Save your game and reset your console. Do not use/enter the above code this time.
3. Enter 4 codes like this:
D0159ED6 FEFF
(color code with 20 as first two digits instead of 30 and ?? = 01)
D0159ED6 F7FF
(color code with 21 as first two digits instead of 30 and ?? = 01)

In our example, you would enter:

D0159ED6 FEFF
211C5FF8 0001
D0159ED6 F7FF
201C5FF8 0001

4. Load your game and go to the Edit Units screen. View your character.
5. Press Triangle or a direction to stop viewing your character. Press R1 to go up a color scheme, and press L1 to go down a color scheme. View your character again.
6. If you want to look at different colors, repeat step 5 as desired. Note that you MUST stop viewing your character for a second for the game to load the new color.
7. After you are done changing colors, turn the codes off! Otherwise the colors will change whenever you hit L1 or R1.

////////////////////////////////////
// EASIER WAY TO CHANGE COLORS FINISHED! //
////////////////////////////////////

EXTRA: If you pick the ID of a character who has a unique recruiting list (Debonair,Tristan, Slust,Fenril, or Fogel) than you will have the same recruiting list as whoever you picked, regardless of what class you currently are.

NOTE: The colors below are not assigned to any special characters. They do change the appearance of each class. It's nearly impossible to label these color schemes, because while each of these schemes uses the same colors, different classes use these colors in different ways. For example, EVERY normal class uses the same colors! Every single Generic class uses that same color scheme, and they all look very different. With this many extra schemes to choose from, you could have every single person in your army have their own unique colors, no matter if everyone in your army is the same class!

4C] Status Changing Codes

Use these codes to change whether your character's size, whether or not they have undead status, and if they are a unit leader or not. Now when a character is given undead status, they keep their Hit Points, thus making them the next best thing to invincible. They get hit by only the same attacks that hit regular undead, but it only does damage to them like it would to any other character. INCLUDING HEALERS! That's right, enemy healers can only do damage to you the same as if they were attacking you. Their intelligence vs. your intelligence and white attack defense. So if you make something like an angel or a pixie have undead status, they're never going to get hurt very much at all.

I've also found that this code controls whether or not witches can recruit pumpkinheads. You can recruit them right at the beginning of the game with this!

The real use for these codes (in my opinion) is to simply make monster characters (wyrms, dragons, giants, etc.) into small size characters and unit leaders. These codes are here for you to enjoy, so use them as you wish.

WARNING: If you are altering the status of a unit leader, make sure you pick a unit leader status, unless you have (or are going to) make another character in the same unit into a leader through these codes (or the old fashioned way :p). If you don't, the game will treat that unit like the leader died! Not good. Also, in Lord's unit, if you make any character besides Lord the leader, the game will treat it like a dead unit, and the unit will be very glitchy in the stage maps.

EXTRA: You can make several characters in one unit into leaders, but only the character with the highest number (the one who joined your army the latest) will be considered the leader.

NOTE: With these codes, replace the ?? with one of the 4 digit codes below the last status code.

4E] Class Codes

---

Use these codes to change the class of your characters. Can't seem to get that character class you want? Just make someone into the class you desire! Problem solved! These codes also allow you to change your characters into classes not available until later in the game. Want to raise angels from level 1 or 2? Just change your starting characters into them!

WARNING!: These codes will NOT change a character's elemental defenses. See section 'Elemental Defense Codes' for codes to change these.

NOTE: Replace the ?? in the following codes with a value from below the code for Character 100.

4G] Hit Points Codes

Use these codes to change your characters' Hit Points. These codes change both current HP and Max HP, so unless you want infinite HP, make sure you save with the codes on, then turn the codes off.

WARNING: Unless you want your characters to have infinite HP, turn off these codes before entering battle.

NOTE: Replace the ??? in the following codes with a value from below the code for Character 100.

Use these codes to change the Deployment cost of your characters.
Very useful to lower the cost if you are broke, or raise the cost if you want a challenge!

4R] Elemental Defense Codes

Use these codes to change your character's elemental defenses. I use these codes to alter the Dragoons' defenses to match their color. I make Slust strong against fire and weak against cold, Fenril the opposite, and Fogel weak against white and strong against black.

WARNING: Wizards use spells against characters based on CLASS, not on defenses.

Also, a character's elemental defenses will change when they change class, unless you leave these codes on.

NOTE: Replace the ?? in the following codes with your desired value from below the codes for Character 100.

Character 1

White

301C832C 00??

Black

301C82C8 00??
