TACTICS OGRE: LET US CLING TOGETHER

COMPRHENSIVE BATTLE GUIDE v. 1.0

INTRODUCTION

Hi! I'm the Town Knave, and if you're one of the six people who still play Tactics Ogre: Let Us Cling Together, you've stumbled upon the most comprehensive guide to the game's battles available in English... and I dare say possibly, in any language. Consider it a companion to my Battle Mechanics Guide, and a complete reference for detailed info on all battles in the game.

First, a few introductory notes. My guide is based mainly on the Japanese Super Famicom version. In gameplay terms, it is 100% to the U.S. PSX version for the purposes of this guide. Where place, character, or item names have been mistranslated or changed (mainly due to space limitations the translators were too lazy to expand, I have used the original name. In most cases this is the same or nearly the same as the name in the Atlus translation- where it's significantly different I've included Atlus' name in parentheses.

This is a huge guide, but using it is pretty simple. You can use your browser's "Find" function (Ctrl-F) to type in the 3-digit battle number from the Table of Contents.

Each battle entry begins with the battle's location and the routes on which is it available. Optional battles are marked with an asterisk (*) here as well as in the table of contents, and the conditions to unlock such battles are listed at the beginning of the entry. Random battles have their conditions marked simply as random. Under this heading appears the enemy listing.

Guests are listed after enemies in the same format. Each enemy listing looks like this:

Enemy ##: NAME/SPECIES/GENDER

Class: CLASS	Level: LEVEL
Element: None	Alignment: ALI
Equipment
Slot 1:	Slot 2:
Slot 3:	Slot 4:
Spells
Slot 1:	Slot 2:
Slot 3:	Slot 4:
Position
Y: #	X: #
Trophy
Item:	Spell:
Affiliations
Loyalty: 100	Race: Zenobian
Union: Former New Zenobian Kingdom

The first line lists the enemy's ID number and their species and gender if it's a generic character, or their name if they are a unique character. The Class and Level fields under that should be pretty self-explanatory, as should equipment and Spells.

Position is the character's starting spot in the map, on the X:Y axis. If a character has a position listed, they are always deployed in that spot.

If a character has no position listed, they are not always deployed on the map at the battle start. This may mean that they are to arrive as reinforcements during battle, that they can be summoned by the enemy leader if his class has the Summon Darkness (Summon-E) ability, or are one of several alternates that can deploy in a given spot, which is usually the case in random battles.

Under the position listing is the trophy listing. Most enemies have no preset trophy, meaning they will drop a stat card a percentage of the time equal to their killer's LUK stat, and will drop Goth or one of their equipped items at a rate given by 100 minus their killer's luck. If there is a preset trophy, they will always drop that.

Finally, we have unit affiliations. Loyalty gives the unit's fidelity to their commander, which indicates how difficult it is to persuade them. Race indicates which of the various races they belong to, and has various major story and minor gameplay effects, while union indicates the particular army to which the unit belongs.
